Department Introduction

The Department of Child & Family Counseling trains counseling experts who support healthy individual development, using an ecological approach spanning children, families, and educational environments. Its focus is on the counseling side of healthy individual growth and shaping a supportive environment around it.

Department Description

Through outstanding faculty and courses, the curriculum delivers the knowledge, theory, and professional counseling skills that modern society needs, enabling students to earn a range of professional certifications in counseling. Competency-building is focused on the practical knowledge most needed in the field, such as child counseling, parent counseling, and caregiving for vulnerable groups, so that graduates are ready as experts suited to real-world needs.

What makes Sejong Cyber University's Family Welfare Counseling different?

- 01 Faculty with doctoral qualifications from Korea and abroad with field experience in child and family counseling.
- 02 A curriculum designed so students can graduate while also earning certifications including Social Worker Level 2 and Adolescent Counselor Level 3.
- 03 Double-major opportunities
such as pairing Child & Family Counseling with Social Welfare, to open the path to a Social Worker Level 2 certificate.
- 04 Scholarships and tuition discounts for graduates who advance to Sejong University's graduate school.
- 05 Backed by the Sejong Research Center for Child and Adolescent Development — the only one among cyber universities — for research and certification prep.
- 06 Internship opportunities through MOUs with childcare institutions to help students smoothly complete childcare-teacher certification.
