Department Introduction

Sejong Cyber University's Department of Creative Writing combines pure literature and applied literature as the basis for creative work. The department trains professional writers with humanities literacy, artistic insight, and a distinctive writing style of their own.

Department Description

The curriculum spans a wide range of genres — pure literature, broadcasting, media, and web literature — with direct guidance from faculty who are active writers themselves. The online class "세작교" (Sejakgyo) gives 1:1 guidance and feedback from active writers matched to each student's chosen genre, in small groups. The department supports students toward literary debut, writing contests, employment, and book publishing, and runs the writing community "북적북적" (Bukjeok-bukjeok) for peer critique and shared discussion of creative work.
